

Celebrating CFO's picnic and workday

You've no doubt heard the song, "When we all get to heaven, what a great day it will be!" Well, CFO has an almost as great a day during its annual summer picnic. Last summer, close to 400 people wheeled into Foggy Bottom Farm for great food, music and inspiring testimonies.

Lots of knots tied

Every summer, 100 to 125 hearts lend their hands to tie beaded rawhides onto "walking sticks" and yardsticks at CFO's workday. Yes, the Holy Spirit had a hand in it, too – bringing these dedicated souls together to prepare the sticks.

Last summer's workday at Foggy Bottom brought together a joyful mix ranging from 2 years old to 92 years. In a few short hours, the eager workers strung 17,000 sticks for the coming seeding and harvest of souls. They were happy to labor in the barn.

An unexpected workday blessing!

By Ron Green

Susan Oleganic, one of my church family, accepted my invitation to help tie beads at last summer's Walking Stick Workday. During our workdays, CFO hosts 20-minute training sessions on how to present the salvation message. Susan joined the session I was teaching.

When I asked: "If you died today, are you 100% certain you would wake up with Jesus?", Susan responded with a forthright, "No, I'm not sure! I believe on Christ and what He did. I feel I'm saved, but hear confusing things about salvation, and I want that assurance."

We quickly went to God's Word for her assurance. Realizing the truth, Susan wanted to pray to ask Jesus to be her Savior. She hears the Gospel almost every Sunday, but needed conviction to truly accept the beautiful gift being offered – and finally have that special assurance!
